Electric Flat Iron Rates Will Be Reduced

Chimney at Power Plant to be Torn Down. All Debitments to be Offered For Sale

An adjourned meeting of the City Council was held on Tuesday evening with Mayor Walker, and Ald. Ellis, Compton and Watson present.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES
Ald. Watson reported in the matter of Jordan's matter, that this matter had been running slow until it had been recently tested but now it was correct. Ellis and Watson—that Mr. Jordan be advised that his matter had been running slow until it had been recently tested, but now it was correct. Ellis and Watson—that Mr. Jordan be advised that his matter had been running slow until it had been recently tested, but now it was correct.

The light and power committee recommended that the chimney at the power plant be taken down, and the brick used in the new building. The treasurer will take it down for $50 under the supervision of Supt. Watson. Compton—Ellis—that the report of the committee be adopted. Carried.

Tenders for the brick work at the power house were opened as follows:
W. T. Hughes, $10.50 per M. for boilers, and $7.50 per M. for walls.
Scott Bros. $10.00 per M. for boilers and $6.00 for walls.
Chas. J. Swanson $7.00 per M. for work.

Ellis—Watson—that the tenders be referred to the light and power committee with Supt. Watson and Engineer Crane to report by the day after tomorrow, Monday, September 24th, 1912, at 11 a.m. or not to make a recommendation. Carried.

The light and power committee reported on Lepoles account, that all unpaid bills on or over be allowed a two cent rate, and that Mr. Lepoles might get the cheaper rate for his flat iron. Report adopted.

The finance committee advised that all unpaid debentures be offered for sale by advertisement in the Morning Times, applications to be received up to Oct. 1st. Adopted.

The finance committee also recommended that the collector be instructed to collect all personal and income taxes, and if necessary to enter suit for same. Adopted.

The matter of Pelland's application was briefly considered, and the collector was instructed to write Judge Lees, the sole arbitrator, requesting him to set a date for the hearing of the arbitration.

City Wins All Assessment Appeals

With the Exception of Six Lots Which are Slightly Reduced

Judge Taylor handed down his decision last week in the Assessment appeal cases, heard at Wetaskiwin a few weeks ago. The following is the full text of the decision.

The Townsite Trustees appealed on the ground that their assessment is excessive. There is no doubt but what it is higher than the selling price put on the lots by the Company. However, I should make no reduction if the surrounding property is assessed equitably with it.

From the evidence that was before me all the subdivided land was equitably assessed. If I were to reduce this property there is no doubt but what it would work an injustice to the other property holders and although the assessment is higher than the selling price yet there can be no injustice where all is assessed equitably. If all the property is assessed at a high valuation the rate will be correspondingly lower. For these reasons I cannot see my way clear to reduce the assessment.

As regards the unsubdivided portion the evidence clearly shows that the surrounding property is assessed even then that belonging to the

Good Attractions For Fair

Exhibition Promises to be the Biggest and Best Ever Held

Do not forget that the dates for the Wetaskiwin Exhibition are Thursday and Friday of next week. Secretary Emman informed The Times representative this morning that the number of entries already in his possession are far ahead of any previous year in the history of the society and the exhibits would be the biggest and best ever held in the city.

Hon. A. C. Rutherford, Premier of the province, has signified his willingness to be present and officially open the exhibition, and this event in itself should attract a large crowd the first day. A good programme of horse races start at two o'clock each day, while there will also be a big Indian parade and pow-wow in front of the grand stand both days. Report not seen for months.

The grounds will be lighted by electricity, and no doubt a large number will avail themselves of the opportunity of seeing the exhibition in the evening.

In the meantime make arrangements to join the crowd in Wetaskiwin on Thursday and Friday next, see the fair and other attractions and share bands with the old friends you have of the grand stand both days. Report not seen for months.

Tax Sale To Be Held

Committees Re-Adjusted and City Buys Coal at Friday Night's Meeting

An adjourned meeting of the city fathers was held on Friday evening with all the members present.

E. Roberts returning officer, reported the result of the election for Mayor, and that he had declared Dr. Walker elected to the exalted position.

Acting Mayor Ellis then welcomed the newly-elected mayor to the board and a few words, Mayor Walker made a brief address, stating that he would be glad to accept the great responsibilities of the office and that he would exercise his best abilities in carrying out his duties. He hoped that harmony would prevail at the board, and that all business would be expeditiously dispatched but with due deliberation.

The first business was the re-adjustment of the committees. It was moved by Olin-Gross—that the Mayor make his own selection to fill the vacancies on the committees. Carried. His Worship appointed Ald. Watson to the chairmanship of the light and power committee, and as a member of the police, market and license committee, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Ald. Dudgeon. Ald. Gross was appointed to the fire and water committee. Mayor Walker submitted his own name for that of Ex-Mayor Knox as chairman of the finance committee.

...Owing to pressure of work, Ald. Emman asked to be relieved of duties of the light and power committee. It was moved by Olin-Gross—that Ald. Emman be relieved of the work of this committee, and that Ald. Gross be appointed in his stead. Carried.

Ellis—Emman—that the draft of committees as submitted be approved. Carried.

It was moved by Compton-Watson—that Ex-Ald. Dudgeon, representing the city, and Ald. Ellis and Emman, representing the council, be appointed to fill the vacancies on the Hospital Board, caused by resignation. Carried.

Mr. Krogman addressed the council on the construction of concrete walk around his store. He was assured of a good price for his work.

The matter of coal for the city was then discussed, when it was moved by Ellis-Olin—that the city order a week for 6 weeks of screened coal at $1.75 a ton at the mine from the Twin City Coal Co. and also two cars of screened and lump coal at $2.50, and that tenders be called for in both Wetaskiwin and Edmonton papers for supply of coal for city purposes until May 1st, 1913. Tenders to be received up to Sept. 24th. Carried.

The next order of business was the other lots are assessed above their sale price.

In block 51, lots 1 and 20 I will reduce to $400 and $350 respectively, block 76, lot 11 I will reduce to $300 lots 12, 13 and 14 to $250. All others will confirm the assessment.

REDISTRIBUTION MAY BE DELAYED

Ottawa, Sept. 14.—There is a probability of the redistribution bill being delayed for a year by the government instead of being brought down at the coming session of parliament as originally intended. Since the announcement of the premier and his colleagues and their preliminary look round at the immense amount of work ahead both in catching up with arrears of departmental administration and in preparing the legislative programme for the coming session they have developed a decided fear, realizing that a hard fighting season is before them, and that as yet they are ill prepared either to recover lost ground or to break new. The tariff and naval questions, transportation problems, the Bank Act reciprocal trade matters, etc., will all have to be dealt with this year and on none of these matters has the government yet evolved any final or definite policy.

It is also fully realized by the ministers that the opposition has good ground for attack on a long range of subjects and will undoubtedly put up a long and strenuous fight. The delay of the redistribution bill is also a factor in the delay of the bill.

Under the circumstances there is now a growing feeling among the members of the government that next year will be a good year for an election. If a redistribution bill were passed this coming session that and the insistence of the opposition for an early election coupled with the promise of an appeal to the people on the naval issue might well justify the Liberals in forcing an appeal to the country. Following the same tactics as were adopted last year by the Conservative opposition.

The postponement of the redistribution bill until the following session would lighten the burden of the government for the coming session and would almost certainly prevent an election being forced upon the government unwillingly. It could, moreover, reasonably be postponed on the score that there is no urgency and that other matters of legislation are more imperative. Indications now point to the postponement of the bill and the delay of the bill.

"MIXED" FARMING" SPECIAL TRAIN TO TOUR THE PROVINCE

A "mixed farming special" for the purpose of educating the farmers of Alberta as to the benefits of diversified agriculture, will be run over the lines of the Canadian Northern and Grand Trunk Pacific railways by the provincial department of agriculture in co-operation with the railway companies during the last week of October and the month of November. The equipment for the train will be furnished by the Canadian Pacific and will consist of nine cars, and two baggage cars containing exhibits of grain, grasses, weeds and dairy products; another baggage car with a poultry display; two cars of pure-bred livestock; two passenger cars to be used as lecture rooms, a sleeper, a diner and a box car.

In addition to the farm, dairy and poultry experts employed by the provincial department of agriculture, local lecturers will be engaged to deliver lectures on the merits of the company train. The speakers already agreed upon include Prof. W. J. Elliot of the Canadian Pacific railway, natural resources department, Superintendent H. A. Craig, of the provincial demonstration farms; C. E. Lewis, superintendent of fairs and institutions; Livestock Commissioner W. F. Stevens, Provincial Seed Inspector, A. McInnes, Provincial Dairy Commissioner C. P. Marker, and Provincial Poultry Commissioner A. W. Foley.

Hon. Duncan Marshall, minister of agriculture, is now in the east and while there he will enlist the services of two or three noted farm specialists who will travel with the train.

The schedule calls for stops of three hours' duration at the following points on the Canadian Pacific, on the dates indicated:

Nov. 16.—Saturday, Killam, 9 o'clock, Dayland 14 o'clock.
Nov. 17.—Monday, Leduc 9 o'clock, Camrose 14 o'clock.

THE SUBJECTS HANDLED
The "schools," as they are called will be condensed so that a farmer who wishes to hear all the lectures will have to travel the entire route.

who wishes to hear all the lectures will have to travel the entire route.

Dairying will receive considerable attention, and ample provision will be made for poultry and domestic science. The idea is to win the farmers away from the notion that they should raise nothing but grain and to demonstrate to them recent reasons why "mixed farming" is a much safer and more profitable vocation.

The lectures will be well equipped with facts which will be presented to the farmers in the most practical form. Pure bred livestock will be carried for the purpose of illustrating different types and familiarizing the ideal. It is possible that features not now in contemplation will be added to the "schools" in the event that it is found possible to include them.

The present high prices prevailing for bred, pork and mutton should be a strong incentive to the Alberta farmers to breed more livestock, and it is the intention of those having the train in charge to make a special study of this industry. The schedules on the Grand Trunk Pacific and the Canadian Northern are now being prepared and will be made public when completed.

MORE SEATS IN ALBERTA

Calgary, Alta., Sept. 14.—Session of the legislature will be held some time in November or the early part of December, at the close of which a redistribution will take place, and the addition of 19 seats be created on account of the increase of population during recent years. An election will be held some in the summer or fall of 1913.

According to political wiseacres will in all probability be the program of the Sifton government, and despite all rumors to the contrary, it is not thought that there will be any elections this fall as at first supposed. The Sifton administration has no need to go the country until the spring of 1914, when their term of office expires, but it is generally conceded that the fall of 1913 will see them. The policy of the past two years, which by that time will be well advanced with several of the lines guaranteed in operation and the others rapidly nearing completion.

Liberal members who have been in the province for some time, do not look for elections this fall, but generally concede that a redistribution act will be brought in this year, which will give Alberta the same number of seats as are at present in Saskatchewan. This will increase the representation in the present legislature by 12, with the majority of the new seats in the north, where the present constituencies are very large, and where the population has made immense strides in the past four years.

BAILEY-HOSFORD. NUPTIAL

A pretty wedding took place on the South Side on Tuesday at four o'clock when R. H. Bailey, of Bailey, Bush and Eastin, was married to Miss Ida Hosford, the youngest daughter of J. Eldon Hosford, of First Avenue S.W. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride by Rev. C. J. Bailey, brother of the groom assisted by Prof. King, of Alberta College.

The bridesmaids were Miss H. Hofer and Miss D. Bailey, and the groom was assisted by F. T. Cook and S. R. Hosford.

The bride was charmingly attired in a gown of white Duchesse satin with wreath and veil, and carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley.

The bridesmaids wore pale green silk collie and carried bouquets of pink roses.

After the ceremony guests to the number of forty sat down to the wedding dinner, at which the usual toasts were tendered and responded to.

The bride and groom left on an extended trip through the Eastern provinces, and upon their return will reside at their new home on the South Side.

The numerous and costly presents were tokens of best wishes, and gave tangible testimony to the popularity of Mr. and Mrs. Bailey on the South Side.—Bulletin.

Columbia Graphophones

We have been appointed district agents, for the celebrated "COLUMBIA" Graphophones and Gramofones.

These wonderful sound-recording and sound-reproducing instruments, are conceded to be the best disc talking machines on the market today.

They are the very latest improved hornless type and are quite free from that harsh, metallic noise, so disagreeable to the musical ear.

We also sell the "COLUMBIA DOUBLE DISC RECORD," the kind that has the music on both sides, and we cordially invite you to call and hear this wonderful talking machine, at

JUVENILE BOSTONIANS COMING

The famous Juvenile Bostonian Opera Company in the twenty year of the organization's remarkable career of successes comes to Wetaskiwin for a limited engagement of one night Sept. 15th at the Angus Theatre.

Nothing more delightful in the way of light, gloom-dispelling diversion could have been parveyed by the local managers than this scintillatingly brilliant "gilt" show. Girls show it is and in a truer sense than the term is most commonly used, for the Bostonian Juveniles are made up entirely of the latter sex—nary a man or boy in the company! This in itself is a novelty and something the fact adds largely to the huge popularity theyoung ladies have won, usually explained as due a combination of youthful charm with rare cleverness and talent.

Cheap Tea is Dear Tea

SO declared the mother of a small family not long ago—

—And proved the statement true by simply relating her tea experience.

"I used a 40c. Tea for years," she said. "One day the Grocer asked me to try a 50c. package of Red Rose—he told me it was better Tea. I found it better Tea, and—before I had quite finished the first package I thought it made more Tea. The second pound I used with care——And found out that less Tea in the Pot made a richer, finer-flavored Tea, if you know what I mean."

We know exactly what this lady meant—

—50c. Red Rose Tea is a richer, stronger Tea, more delicately flavored.

A pound of this 50c. Red Rose Tea makes about 200 cups.

So—You might as well have better tea for the same cost in the long run.

There are several grades of Red Rose Tea selling at different prices, but the 50c. grade seems to please best. It is not only fine quality but goes farther.

1912 PRIZE CONTEST FOR FARMERS

This contest is along the same lines as the one which was so successful last year, except that there are three times as many prizes, and therefore three times as many chances for each contestant to win. Every farmer in Canada who uses "Canada" Cement is eligible to compete. The conditions are such that large and small users of cement have equal opportunities to win a $50 prize.

The contest is divided into three classes, and there are first, second, third and fourth prizes ($50, $25, $15 and $10) in each class.

CLASSES—Prizes are awarded to four farmers in each province who use most "Canada" Cement in their farms in 1912. CLASSES—Prizes are awarded to the best cement work done with "Canada" Cement in their farms in 1912. CLASSES—Prizes are awarded to the best concrete work done with "Canada" Cement in their farms in 1912.

W. E. Edwards of Sedgewick, a man well known in the district southeast of Camrose was out all this week buying the right-of-way for the fifty miles of the C.N.R. line to be built from Camrose to Almat. On Monday morning a gang of men commenced work at a point three miles out on the construction of this line. It is not to be expected that the grading outfits will be as large as in the spring of the year last with the force was at work much grading work will be done before the advent of the winter.

For some time nothing has been heard of the gas franchise but at the meeting of the council on Friday last the agreement which was the subject of much discussion several weeks ago was again introduced and adopted by the council subject to the will of the ratepayers. At a subsequent meeting on Saturday morning a by-law granting to the company the rights and privileges stated in the agreement was passed by the council. It will be voted on by the ratepayers on October 7th.

The strong opportunity in Edmonton for the marketing of every line of dairy produce has been opened to Mr. J. Harris, of the J. Harris Co., that during the past few weeks he has been working on a preposition to establish a dairy business in that city. His success is shown by the organization of a company to be known as the Harris Dairy Products Ltd., with a capitalization of $100,000. The new company of which Mr. Harris is president and managing director has acquired the creamery and produce business of the J. Harris Co., including the creameries at Camrose and New Norway, and the warehouse at Camrose. There will also be incorporated in the company the Leduc Produce Co., of Leduc, which during the past few years has developed a strong trade connection with Edmonton and the country to the north.

Howard Wright one of Canada's best riders has come to live in Leduc. Though only a boy 15 years old Howard is one of the best shots in the Dominion. He arrived from Ottawa on Monday to join his father Mr. R. H. Wright, of Leduc, Bowrth & Co. His collection of silverware won at different rifle meets, would do justice to the table of a duke. Among the trophies he carried of his own is the D.P.A. and elsewhere was the splendid trophy the Metropolitan cup. Howard was a member of the Ottawa College Cadet corps and the 4th Regiment at Ottawa—Representative.

Suffered With Nerve Trouble FOR TWO YEARS

IMPOSSIBLE FOR HIM TO SLEEP

Mr. Chas. W. Wood, 24 Terrace St., Montreal, Que., writes: "For two years I had suffered with nerve trouble, and it was impossible for me to sleep. I did not matter what time I went to bed, in the morning I was even worse than the night before. I consulted a doctor, and he gave me a tonic to take a half hour before going to bed. It was all right for a time, but the trouble returned with greater force than before. One of the boys who works with me, gave me a box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I took them, and I got such relief that I got another box, and before I finished it I could enjoy sleep from 10 p.m. until 6 a.m., and now feel like a new man."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50 cents per box, or 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price, by the T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

BOWSER'S WILL.

He Exerts It For the Benefit of Humanity.

HIS EFFORTS UNAPPRECIATED

Instead of Making Others Happy He Gets Abuse and a Black Eye and Has to Disguise His Defeat by Flirting to Mrs. Bowser.

By M. QUAD.

(Copyright, 1912, by Associated Literary Press.)

WHEN dinner had been finished Mr. Bowser did not sit down to his cigar and newspaper, as usual. He walked about as if he had something on his mind, and Mrs. Bowser finally noticed it and queried: "Has something happened to bother you?" "Oh, no," I was just thinking of taking an evening walk."

"I will go with you."

"But you see I don't want you to."

"And who cares?"

"I am going to make a little experiment, or you may call it testing a theory, and I can do better alone."

"You seem to be."

"And perfectly pleased?"

"Yes."

"And you would say I was at peace with all the world?"

"Yes, but the minute I tell you that the war has been a dollar more than last month you will break out."

"Well, you have told me, and have I broken?"

"I can't understand what you are trying to get at," said Mrs. Bowser.

"Here's the case in a nutshell. I am proud. I am in the best of good mood."

SLAMMED HIM UP AGAINST A FENCE.

ture. I am content. I wouldn't have a fly. If the gas bill was $400 I wouldn't care. I'd have to pay any man a dollar, and I'd give my tramp my shoes."

His Frame of Mind.

Mrs. Bowser looked at a swell of his breath and then retreated. He hadn't been drinking. He was out in the melow stage.

"Here's the case in a nutshell. I am proud. I am in the best of good mood."

"Will power, Mrs. Bowser—pure will power. That's the story. I'm testing the theory I spoke of. I get myself in a certain state of mind and then exercise my will power on others."

"Why, that's hypnotism."

"Not at all, dear. I shan't ask you to look me in the eye, nor shall I lay hands on them. It's simply will power. I will myself into a certain state of mind, and then I will others into the same state."

"I do it as I use them or stop for a moment to speak to them. I am sure it can be done."

"You can't do any such thing! You may control your own mind, but you can't the minds of others. You'll get into a row if you try it."

"But I shall try it, Mrs. Bowser. If I succeed what will be the result?"

"Listen, woman! If I have the power to control the minds of others I shall be greater than a king. I can say there shall be no more crime, no more grafting, no more corrupt congressmen. I can make this world rest to heaven."

"Boosh!"

"I smile at your skepticism. All this while I have been exercising my will power over you. I have made you say what you have said in order that my victory may be the greater. I will now walk out and return in about two hours."

"You'd better have your name and the number of the telephone placed on your newspapers, for you'll be taken as a crazy mad wandering around."

"More of my will power," smiled Mr. Bowser as he walked down the hill. "I will try to tell you how very wonderful will power is to do and return a great deal to it."

Mrs. Bowser followed him to the fence and looked after him as he slithered down the street and went back to the sitting room to smile and say to herself:

"Has any other woman in the state got such a husband? Good man, but he can't keep his feet on the ground."

take some family's cook to a wonderful show. He was also happy and might even propose matrimony before the performance was over. There is no use in trying to make a happy person any happier.

Then there came a man at a hurried call and uttering to himself: "He wasn't a bit happy. Mr. Bowser said that he wasn't and threw his will power at him when he was yet thirty feet away. It didn't reach him for an instant. He came on, and as he was opposite he growled:

"Cuss the luck! Can't I ever have a happy person?"

"Halt!" was the command. "My friend, you are not a happy man, but I can make you so."

"Who in business are you?"

"Never mind about that. I will that your troubles leave you and that you become playful and happy. Keep quiet a moment."

"Say, you're drunk!" shouted the man, and, catching Mr. Bowser by the collar, he whirled him around and slammed him up against a fence and passed on. The theory had missed fire, but only for a moment was Mr. Bowser discouraged. Probably he was suddenly called upon to work that it had wobbled a little. He walked on down to the next corner. There was a bakery there, and a poor old woman stood looking at the bread in the windows in a longing way.

A Promising Chance.

"Egad, but she shall have a loaf," whispered Mr. Bowser to himself, and he walked that she should enter the place.

She seemed to feel his power, and after looking around and uttering to herself she entered.

"It's a success with her, and now for the baker!"

The baker stood behind his counter reading a paper. He looked up and waved his hand at the old woman to signify that he was ready to take right up of that without delay.

Bowser walked him to be pleased and cheerful.

"I've wasted his hand again and evidently swore."

Bowser put on more steam. The baker came from behind the counter and took the old woman by the shoulders and pushed her to the door and out with the warning:

"Now, you old tramp, if you show up again I'll cut the fellow's throat."

"He can, woman, he can!" cautioned Mr. Bowser as she began to scream and resist.

"He tells me to be calm?" she demanded. "Oh, it's you, is it? What have you got to do with this fuss?"

"Woman, I will you to mind your own business!" she shouted as she knocked his hat from his head.

"What have you got to say about this?" put in the baker as he bristled up.

"Mr. Bowser walked him to retire inside. He didn't do it."

"Do you take her part?"

"Picked, sir. He placed and merrily."

"You are hanged! Say, now, I don't like your looks! I believe you are the old gink that came here and worked a bogus half dollar on me when I was just a boy."

A Condition Meets a Theory.

"You are an infernal liar!" retorted Mr. Bowser, suddenly forgetting all about will power.

"Oh, I am, am I?"

And he shot out his left and landed on the baker's right eye and sent him to grope and then told him that if he didn't make a bee line for home he'd leave him for life.

"What's the matter?" asked Mrs. Bowser as the victim came to holding a band to his eye.

"Automobile!" he hoarsely whispered. "It hit you!"

"It did!"

"But why didn't you tell the chauffeur to run into the river instead?"

Mr. Bowser, gazed a long, frozen stare at Mrs. Bowser's one-eyed glare and then turned away and went upstairs without a word.

He wanted to be alone with the witch and his thoughts.

True Happiness.

While it is a doubtful happiness to be rich, it is a positive happiness to think what you would do if you only were rich.

—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Its Fatal Defect.

The elfin tongueless man was trying to persuade Mr. Wilemkins to buy a dictionary.

"It's the latest thing out," he said, "up to date in every particular, contains more words than any other, has all the technical and scientific terms that have come into use in the last ten years, and there's but a feature missing that I owe to make a first class work of the kind."

"Let me look at it a minute," said Mr. Wilemkins.

The agent handed it over, and he inspected it briefly. Then he handed it back.

"Young man," he said, "you can't work that book off on me."

"What's the matter with it?"

"It ain't got no copious index."—Chicago Tribune.

By EVANGELINE

THE VOICACY OF THE MASSES
Sept. 22.—Matt. 14:13-21; Luke 9:12-17, John 6:1-13.

Alice Terrell in describing to experience of a student volunteer in teaching writes as follows:

"He preached till after midnight to eager listening crowds, and as he dropped upon his bed too weary to speak, with aching throat and parched lips he breathed a prayer of thankfulness that to him had been given this opportunity.

At four o'clock which came all too soon, he heard the call, "Teacher of the Gospel, arise, it is now light, and the people are assembling to hear you."

Could the whose Master, seeking use in the wilderness, had pity on the multitudes refuse? Springing up, dressing quickly he fell upon his knees in prayer for strength, and then, blest in hand, went forth to give him the message. Till noon he preached and taught, with scarcely time for food or drink.

Then when the crowd withdrew, food was placed before him and he was told to rest but as he sat with bowl and chopsticks in hand, there came together the farmers from the country round about asking that instead of their usual noonday may they might hear this wonderful gospel of rest for their souls.

"Who was I?" he said, "to deny these hard working men who preferred hearing God's Word to their own rest after toiling from the first streak of dawn? Besides these could not read and the spoken story was the only one that could reach them." So again he gladly gave himself to loving ministry.

It was an experience similar to this that led our Lord to seek escape from the multitudes in order that He might attend the vast and greatest missionary convention of the age.

It was the greatest for Jesus, the Christ, was its presiding officer, and the centre of attraction, because the apostles were the returned missionaries who had gone forth with one device emblazoned upon their banner.

The lost sheep of the house of Israel for Christ, because all wranglings were hushed—all forgotten in the presence of the Master and of Israel's urgent needs and pressing claims because the reports of what they had taught and what they had done were presented not to a faithful Board but to an infatigable Head because of the inspiration and spiritual power that it brought the Giver and Sustainer of Life. "The apostles gathered themselves unto Jesus, and they told Him all things, whatsoever they had taught. And He said unto them, Come ye yourselves apart into the desert place and rest awhile, for there were many coming and going and they had no leisure so much as to eat."

They were hungry both mentally, and spiritually. So strenuously had been their labors that they had neglected to fortify themselves for the work. Possibly some may have been feeding upon wrong food.

All like Ephraim, has been feeding more or less upon "wind," the rush and whirl of missionary activity.

The Master cannot use discouraged and tearful missionaries, nor can He use those whose inspiration is drawn from a dead past, nor can He use those whose lives are spent continually in the rush of work as to have in prayer for strength, and then, blest in hand, went forth to give him the message.

They knew their need and becoming to them said in confidence, "Come ye yourselves apart into solitary place."

"For fruitfulness and blessing is intercourse with God." The power for holy service there is no "royal road."

They knew their need and becoming to them said in confidence, "Come ye yourselves apart into solitary place."

"When they departed into a desert place by ship privately and the people saw them departing, many knew Him and ran afoot thither out of all the cities and out went them and came together unto Him. And Jesus when He came out saw much people and was moved with indignation with compassion. No," with compassion.

JUST LIKE HIM
His own need and that of His apostles sink out of sight as He bends them. He loved the sea of humanity that ebbed and flowed about Him. To Him they were no "vulgar crowd," no "common herd," no "rabble," but "the multitudes." One hundred and eighty-three times in the Gospels that word occurs and many times is it coupled with compassion for them.

He was the greatest Lover of the multitudes this world has ever known. He counted no sacrifice too great for them. He could bear any interruption from them. He alone knew their heart hunger. He knows the unsatisfied longing of the mind in the "fathomable" West End, who find everything under the "ivory and vexation of spirit," or a "hore." He knows the growing dissatisfaction of the masses of the "East End."

In the miracle of the feeding of the thousands, Jesus demonstrated that His ability in the material realm to satisfy their hunger was symbolic of His ability in the spiritual to fully meet and satisfy the deeper cravings of the human heart.

Mark tells us that "He came forth and saw a great multitude and He had compassion on them because they were as sheep without a shepherd and He began to teach them many things."

This was His first concern, to feed their souls with the Word of God. This is the matter of supreme importance in the life of every one of us—to receive with meekness the important Word which is able to save our souls—the material feeding was only a secondary consideration.

The overwhelming need was a source of perplexity to the disciples. source of perplexity to the disciples. They had only five loaves and two fish.

Philip whose home was nearby and who constituted himself.

A COMMITTEE OF WAYS AND MEANS

figured out the costs of buying bread for such a crowd and estimated that it would take $84 worth to provide sufficient to give each one a little. As the deposits of the twelve in the savings bank probably did not total up to that amount they were in a quandary.

We have nothing of our own to give that would satisfy the hunger of the masses, but when we bring to Him that which is itself in only an evidence of our poverty, He is able to multiply it sufficiently to meet the needs of thousands. It was as though He said, They are little enough in your hands but they will be ample in mine."

He was a proud lad whom Jesus into partnership with Himself that day. Let us imagine the account he would have given on His return home.

"When He took my basket in His hands and told the people to sit down I said to myself, There is not enough in mine."

He was a proud lad whom Jesus into partnership with Himself that day. Let us imagine the account he would have given on His return home.

"When He took my basket in His hands and told the people to sit down I said to myself, There is not enough in mine."

I was never more astonished in my life as when I saw the amount of grub that crowd made way with all coming out of my hamper. The people had all they could eat and there was a basket left for each of the twelve missionaries. I don't see for the life of me how He could have done it, do you? I'd walk a hundred miles to see another picnic like that.

Many who were not there would not believe—even on the testimony of thousands. They said, How could such a thing be? It is contrary to the laws of nature. It is contrary to common sense.

They forgot that He who made natural laws had no need to His

ALBERTA MUNICIPALITIES

The Oddfellows hall was the scene on Wednesday and Thursday of a notable gathering of representatives of cities and towns in Alberta, for the annual convention of the Union of Alberta Municipalities. When the first session opened on Wednesday morning, with Mayor Mitchell, of Calgary, president of the Union, in the chair, about 30 delegates were in attendance and this number was augmented by later arrivals until about 60 were present.

After a brief address of welcome by Mayor West and a suitable reply by President Mitchell, Mr. Kinnaird, the secretary, presented a report dealing with resolutions passed at last year's convention. These resolutions dealt with such matters as the care of indigents, the disposal of fines levied in police courts, the fight against tuberculosis, the problems arising out of the subdivision of lands, etc.

Mr. Kinnaird then presented the financial report, which showed a small balance on hand. Delegate Sutherland, of Fort Saskatchewan, spoke of the convention of the previous day being prompted by the feeling that the interests of the smaller towns were not adequately represented by the Union. He introduced a resolution asking for a permanent constitution providing for separate sections to deal with matters of interest to different communities. Mr. Jackson, of Ponoka, and D.S. Moffat, city solicitor of Calgary, spoke on the resolution, which finally carried.

Messrs. Sutherland of Saskatchewan, Jackson, of Ponoka, and Perry, of Edmonton, were appointed a committee to draft the necessary amendments to the constitution.

Wednesday afternoon a session was attended by about sixty registered delegates.

The first matter considered as a report of the committee appointed last year to consider the best means of dealing with tuberculosis in this province. The report cited what had been done by the committee and suggested that investigation be continued under the direction of the new executive.

The report of the committee on resolutions was then taken up. These were largely for requests for amendments to the Towns Act, in an endeavor to adjust the matter of assessment and taxation. Among the resolutions adopted were to the effect that lands be assessed proportionately. Affecting dates of appeals, etc. Power to be given to enforce license tax and licenses.

The appointment of a representative to watch legislation at Edmonton. To do away with bonuses to industries, but maintaining the right of towns to bonus if cities were granted the privilege.

A protest against the proposed issue of new stock by the C.P.R.

A short session was held on Wednesday evening and this was followed by a reception and banquet to the delegates, the Mount Royal Hotel being the scene of the festivities.

The spacious dining room, brilliantly lighted and prettily decorated, held a merry throng of some seventy delegates and townsmen taking part in the function.

After luncheon was disposed of Mayor West as chairman, proposed the toast, "The King." This being duly honored Mr. West called upon various prominent visitors and some of the local town-folk.

The speeches were all full of life and interest. To a certain extent they partook of the usual after dinner style, but there were many departures from the stereotyped phrases.

Those responding to the invitation to address the meeting were J.A. Simpson, M.L.A., Innisfail; Mayor Armstrong, Edmonton; Mayor Mitchell, Calgary; John Ferris, deputy mayor of municipalities; A.F. Gray, J.J. Crewe, Irvine; Wm. Fisher, Okotoks; A.M. Sutherland, Mayor, Ft. Saskatchewan; Rev. E.T. Strang, Innisfail; J.A. Jackson, Ponoka; G.C. Bentley, Stettin; B.A. St. Clair, Didsbury; Rev. Scallion, Innisfail; H.C. Phillips, Camrose; J.A. Buchanan, Magrath; G.D. Hunter, Pincher Creek; Chas. Pratt, Medicine Hat; A.F. Dalmage, Mayor, Bow Island; J.W. Silverthorn, Mayor, Olds; D.B. Welliver, Mayor, Red Deer; J.H. Burrows, Deyland; P.P. Layton, Camrose; G.R. Westland, Innisfail.

Thursday's session was taken up mainly with selection of next year's convention town. High River was finally the choice of the meeting though Camrose put up a good fight.

P.P. Layton, of Camrose, was elected president for the ensuing year and Geo.H. Kinnaird, of Edmonton, was re-elected secretary treasurer.

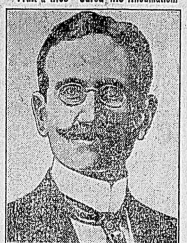

Innisfail Province.

GENERAL BOOTH'S WILL

The publication of the details of General Booth's will put an end to the malicious story, none the less malicious because it was insidiously spread that the Salvation Army General fattened on the funds his wife contributed for its purposes by charity-minded people. The absurd notion to the General's riding about in his motor car needs no further comment than this: that his wonderful thorough covering of the of the British field of battle would have been impossible without this aid to quick travel. But detractors of the Army's chief went beyond a small cavil like that they said he was living on the fat of the land at the expense of the poor. Well, those who know General Booth best, some of them in no way connected with the Army or its affairs, knew how ridiculous was the assertion. They went still farther and said he was piling up money, contributed by the public to the Army, for his own purposes and those of his family. This last detractor on is pulled

ENJOYING THE BEST OF HEALTH

"Fruit-a-lives" Cured His Rheumatism

Prof. J. F. DAVIS
365 Commercial St., Toronto.

I want to say to the people of Toronto and elsewhere that "Fruit-a-lives" is my only medicine and has been for the last four years. Previous to that I had been very much troubled with Rheumatism and Kidney Disease, and had taken many remedies as well as employing hot applications of salt bags etc., without getting satisfactory results.

Noticing the advertisement of "Fruit-a-lives", I adopted this treatment altogether and, as everybody knows, since taking "Fruit-a-lives" I have been enjoying the very best of health and find it a pleasure to follow my vocation of Dancing and Department Instruction.

Prof. J. F. DAVIS,
The celebrated teacher of dancing and deportment in Toronto, is quite frank in stating that "Fruit-a-lives" alone cured him of distressing Rheumatism and Kidney Trouble. See a box, 5 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. At all dealers or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-lives Limited, Ottawa.

out to the four winds by the published details of the General's will.

There is no surprise in the fact that the properties in the Army are passed on to the General's successor, to hold in trust for the use of the denomination. But those who have seen in the sneering at the venerable Salvationist will rub their eyes when they see some years ago has passed the enormous fortune of four hundred and eighty-seven pounds, or less than $2,500. This money all goes into the common fund of the Army. But that is not all. Many years ago Henry Booth, an admirer of William Booth's, when he was an outcast among men, settled on him personally property so that he might be unhampered financially in carrying out the work he had undertaken which is now estimated in value at $3,395. Upon the income from this investment, the General lived until his death and it was this provision that enabled him to draw no salary or remuneration from the Army funds. The personal estate consisting of the property referred to goes to six of his children, so that each will receive about four thousand dollars. In some ways it is a pity the General had to die before the world could learn the exact truth, but those who sneered will be brought to be sorry now. The General was a man of high character, and especially in the face of hostile criticism, and the information he so carefully withheld from his enemies is now the property of all.
